This vaccine is being produced in India by Dr. Reddy's Laboratory and made its debut on COWIN, the app used to conduct the vaccine drive in the country, on May 18.

When Russian Direct Investment Fund (RDIF) and Gamaleya Institute's Sputnik V was granted approval for emergency use in India, it became the third vaccine and first foreign option – besides Serum Institute's Covishield and Bharat Biotech Covaxin, in the country's vaccination drive.
